I especially liked that we were able to tailor assignments (most specifically, papers and our classroom observation) to our course goals.

Dr. Bryan clearly is one of the best professors I have encountered. He is very understanding and shares his personal experiences with us to help guide us in the right direction. He is concerned that we make the right choice in becoming a teacher and clearly identifies all of the reason one may not want to become a teacher. He is honest, understanding and very caring. He took the time to answer questions I had pertaining to my children and the difficulties they are having adjusting to starting school not just for them, but for myself as well. He gave the best advice, he knew when I was trying to do too much too soon and saw that I was overwhelmed and simply said, take a step back, your kids need you and you don't have to be in the classroom every day. I have never been more sure of the choice I have made to become a teacher, Dr. Bryan certainly helped me better understand that education requires dedication but at the same time, I need to take care of my family, with that said we are all happy and can learn together ! I really enjoyed this class and even though I have had more stress in my personal life than ever, this class put it all into perspective ! I know I have a lot more to learn, but Dr. Bryan laid a solid foundation ! thank you Dr. B !!!!!!!

I loved the fact that he encouraged to seek a meaningful field experience that would be useful to us as individuals. I thought his organization was exceptional and the questions posed in each thread required reflection on the textbook material. Although we were not face to face, the class felt very collaborative as we read & responded to each others postings. Dr. Bryan was very responsive and gave thoughtful answers and suggestions. Dr. Bryan should be commended on his excellent organization and teaching style. This was an excellent class. If all online classes were modeled as such, I would be enrolled every semester!

Since this was an online class, I like how the professor had every thing setup for the students ahead of time. This allowed the students to work ahead of schedule if they wanted to and not get bogged down in numerous assignments at one time. The professor also, taught from the textbook, which was easy to follow.

If I don't understand a topic that is being taught, Dr. Bryan would go to the extra mile to make sure I understand the topic. He would send different websites for me and other students to research to gain a better understanding of the topic. He would also send information he finds from Newspapers, books, and whatever else he can find that relates to the topic. He is patient and understanding and he is always available to help a student.

I enjoyed this course, even though I was a little worried about taking an online course. I was pleasantly surprised at how organized and how all assignments and due dates were laid out at the beginning of the semester.

I like the discussion board.

I really liked the open discussions. Also I really liked hearing what all of my other classmates had to say about the subjects.

Straight forward and to the point

Dr. Bryan's teaching methods give the students a better understanding of the material outlined in EDU 200 course.

This course was great. It was my first online course, but Dr. Bryan made it extremely easy for me to follow in this course and was very understanding when I got behind.

I think we were given thought provoking questions and assignments to really understand the profession we will be entering and if we really want this. I think the teaching methods were very helpful. Our instructor was always there to answer a question and very understanding. We were able to really get everything we needed out of the class.

I like how he allowed students to alter the course to fit their learning needs. For example, he understood that people work and the amount of hours needed for the field experience did not fit every student's schedule. So he allowed the students to figure out a way to work the field experience into their schedules even if they couldn't meet the full hour requirements of the class but meet the requirements of the teaching program they're going into.

Question 21 Essay

What changes, if any, would you like this instructor to make in this course?

Hmmmm..... Not real sure. I enjoyed the course.

The only change I would suggest would be to allow the students to write their papers based on how they would like to write them and not based on what the students of the pass had done. We are all individuals with different thoughts and styles, why not let these styles flourish. I mean, why not just say write your papers in whichever format you as the teacher would like (MLA, APA), or just assign them a word count like 3500.

None

I don't think there were any changes needed in the class.

I cannot thing of anything that I would like him to change right now.

Dr. B. please done change, you are the best instructor I have had out of 15 ! You are so understanding and passionate about education, I wish they were all as considerate as you !

Don't change a thing Dr. B.

None.

n/a

No changes. I think we were given what we needed to introduce us to the subject of teaching.

Thanks! I know I will be a better instructor with the information I've obtained in this course.

Great class for TCC!

I think this is a great class for prospective teachers. I think it will answer all your questions.

Thank you for teaching this class this semester, I truly enjoyed being a part of it.

I found that Dr. Bryan was extremely flexible when I had an unexpected death in the family in the middle of the semester. I missed a week of assignments and Dr. Bryan was extremely considerate and allowed me to make up the work, as well as receive the full credit. My other instructors acted as though this was just a made up excuse. I understand that there may be some students out there that would make up such a story, but instructors need to give students the benefit of the doubt when dealing with such a life changing event. Dr. Bryan was the only instructor that treated me with respect and patience during this hard time. I really appreciated it and hope to be as considerate to ALL my students when I become a teacher.

Thank you for all of your understanding and advice ! You were so thoughtful and kind when helping me with my own children and the issues they are facing in school ! Juggling motherhood, being a wife, full time student and working, I would have dropped out if it wasn't for your encouragement! It is so easy to give up and your subtle words kept me going ! You are always so positive in your feedback, and that is what I need when I feel so overwhelmed, just to know that I am going to make it out alright, you assured me of that with every ounce of feedback you gave, thanks again, I can't wait to email you in a few years and tell you all about MY students and how I may have helped change one of their lives just as you did mine !

THANKS A MILLION

Dr. Bryan was an excellent teacher and provided a lot of information and guidance about the teacher profession.

I especially appreciate Dr. Bryan's willingness to work with me during a family emergency that consumed a tremendous amount of my time during this semester. I only wish I had been able to stay current with all of my assignments, because I think that the exchange with other students on the course material is a very valuable learning tool and I regret not being able to participate more fully in those exchanges.
