Not so much the instructor. It seems the online chapter tests can sometimes be misunderstood. The wording is tricky sometimes. That being said, I am not real sure how to improve that. I can see how it would be difficult to construct a chapter test based off a hands on computer program course.

I love the open and constant communication. Also love the all of the assignments are given at the beginning and we can do them at our own pace. Most professor's don't like when students work ahead, it can make it difficult because everyone's schedule is so different.

I prefer online courses to in class due to my work schedule.

I like that Dr. Bryan communicates very effectively with us and that he welcomes any feedback at any time.

The reminders of the tests and how encouraging the instructor is.

Nothing, The instructor was very positive and motivating in his emails. Never once did he fail to respond to anything I posted on the discussion board or via online communication. Though I never met the instructor face to face he presented himself very well in his written instructions and communications.

As stated in question 19 above some of the wording of the chapter tests was easily misinterpreted but I am unsure how it could be improved based on course content.

Nice class, my first introduction to Sage 50 and it was very easy to catch on to what I needed to do. It was kind of difficult to set up at first and the customer service for the course was not helpful at all so hopefully this can be resolved for those of us taking the online class.
