

Where the Women Are

More than 21 percent of undergraduate engineering degrees went to women in 1999, but some disciplines are more popular than others.

Percentage of Bachelor's Degrees Awarded to Women by Discipline

ASEE has compiled a detailed statistical profile of engineering and engineering technology programs in the United States. For a copy of the executive summary or of the complete report, contact Paula Whitley at 202-331-3500.